

tell.money is the market-leading open banking SaaS platform, enabling account providers to meet and keep to their regulatory obligations, whilst bringing exciting new open banking tools to their customers.

Regulation

Under PSD2, any organisation offering a payment account must provide an interface, commonly referred to as a dedicated interface, enabling regulated entities to access accounts and initiate payments on behalf of end users.

What is in scope?

Bank accounts

Money Transfer Wallets

Debit and credit cards

Emoney

accounts

Crypto fiat accounts

Always open ecosys

End-to-end dedicated interface

With a range of features and pricing plans, all requirements can be met with ease. PSD2 Compliance can be a complicated and constantly evolving business. We take the strain for you, so you can focus on what you do best – providing excellent products and services to your end users.
